why Unico Windows and Doors?

STEEL REINFORCEMENT

Steel is used for the outer frame as well as the frame of the door slab. This is for security and to retain the shape and fit of the door throughout its life.

PVCu FRAMES

Unlike any other composite door, a PVCu outerframe is used but with an additional PVCu door inner frame to enhance strength and rigidity whilst being able to use the latest technology in hinge and locking mechanisms.

54% THICKER DOOR

Thicker than standard UK composite doors for greater heat and sound insulation and using fire-retardant foam for maximum effect

understanding Rebates

There's many good reasons for a double rebated door

DOOR

REBATE

DOOR FRAME

REBATE

DOUBLE REBATE

The ultimate composite door

The addition of a secondary rebate maximises weatherproofing, sound and heat insulation as well as minimal ingress of dirt and pollutants.

DOOR

REBATE

DOOR FRAME

SINGLE REBATE

A typical entrance door including an ordinary composite door for outdoor use

The addition of a rebate creates a barrier that offers some weatherproofing, creates low level sound and heat insulation whilst reducing the ingress of dirt and pollutant

DOOR FRAME

NO REBATE

Goal-post frame for internal use only

The lack of a rebate / upstand will leave a visible gap to the underside of the door and so therefore does not provide resistance to drafts or weather penetration. However this does provide a good option for either wheelchair use or for a pram or a pushchair.

Triple Glazed as standard

Unico doors use high-technology triple-pane glazing units!

The central glass pane uses laminated glass for greater strength and a very high level of resistance to intrusion. A technology similar to that used in bullet-proof glass!

Most triple glazed units in the UK are between 36 and 44mm in depth DUO triple glazed units are 50mm deep this means an even higher resistance to heat loss as well as even greater sound insulation from the outside world.

Argon gas is used to fill the gap between each pane rather than air - it's greater density slows the transmission of the cold coming in and your heat going out.

environment, delivering some of the lowest U-values the industry has to offer.
